Do You
Feel Lucky...
Punk

Well... Do Ya?

Clint Eastwood in the 1971 film "Dirty Harry"

As the World's best business brokerage and the fastest growing business brokerage, we know a thing or two about luck. First, we have learned that the same people and the same businesses seem to continually get the luck, and for others if it wasn't for their bad luck, they wouldn't have any luck at all. The truth it seems is summed up by Thomas Jefferson's memorable quote "I am a great believer of luck, and I find the harder I work, the more of it I have."

We all know those people who seem to be constantly battling bad luck; their car breaks down in the rain, someone in the family is always sick, they can't concentrate on work because their cat got run over. You know the ones. The difference is due to the way that some have prepared, the way they interpret events, and their attitude, you know, the famous glass is half full perspective. Their car usually breaks down because they didn't service it regularly, someone is always sick in everyone's family – we just don't all make it the focus of our own lives. And the cat? Well that is bad luck, we all get a bit of that too.

Preparation, shaping of our attitude and working hard seems to be the antidotes to bad luck. Put the odds in your favor and make well thought out decisions about your future and if you are considering buying or selling a business, making that move sooner rather than later is a smart move. At LINK we are in real need of more quality businesses in most industries to satisfy our strong buyer demand. In most cases we can provide a fast, no strings attached number for your business value, free of charge. Your future is not pre-determined, but rather it is your own to decide. Do you want to just wait and see what happens, or make a positive change?

Do you feel lucky? Well do ya?
