Are you ready?

Do you want to build a great income while growing your network, setting your own hours and becoming pivotal in life-changing transactions? Then becoming a business broker may be ideal for you.

What exactly is a business broker?

A professional with specialized training and experience in helping people buy and sell businesses. Similar to the way a real estate agent facilitates a property sale, a business broker helps people buy and sell businesses. Brokers are commission-based contractors, enjoying unlimited earning potential.

A broker adds value to the sale of a business

- Sales experience and market knowledge
- Pre-qualifying and targeting potential buyers and vetting ‘tire-kickers’
- Connecting sellers to a wide pool of buyers
- Objectively providing an opinion of the seller’s business
- Advising on improving or preparing the business for sale
- Negotiating the best price

Become a broker – make a difference

Being a business broker is all about creating opportunity. A good business broker has a real chance to change and improve lives. By facilitating the sale, they enable the seller to retire or explore their next adventure, and open a door for a new buyer.

Is business brokering for you?

Business brokers come from all walks of life, yet they all have a few traits in common. A successful business broker is capable of, and comfortable with, the idea of prospecting. They’re also self-motivated, resilient and have a passion for delivering exceptional service. They share an appetite for learning.

Professional perks

A career as a business broker brings with it some excellent benefits that you may not have considered. It’s a unique opportunity to:

- Create a career, business and financial future to be proud of.
- Gain professional satisfaction and respect.
- Build an incredible professional network.
- Engage with other businesspeople from all walks of life.
- Use your knowledge and connections to serve other local businesses.
- Contribute to a team and benefit from being part of one.
- Think on your feet.
- Learn proven sales skills and tactics.

Wraparound support

As a LINK business broker, you have access to smart tools, advice and resources:

Expert Training

LINK.ACADEMY

LINK's own online training tool, individually adapted for each country and certified through our Franchisor Office. LINK.Academy is a workplace training system and competency-based standards program, which translates into proven training and operational procedures. These have been documented in easy-to-follow sales manuals, incorporating appropriate policies, protocols and practices.

Accurate Opinion of Value

VALU.LINK

LINK's award-winning proprietary opinion of value tool offers a detailed, accurate opinion of value of a seller's business, based on global sales data and finely-tuned algorithms. This data is drawn from thousands of business sales, sourced from our own sales records and third parties. Valu.LINK generates a professional report for the broker and the seller.

Powerful Database

ONE.LINK

We developed, and are continuously refining, the world's most powerful cloud-based business brokering CRM system. Designed by brokers for brokers, One.LINK is securely accessible by all LINK brokers. Its database contains all seller and buyer details, contact management functionality, and a sophisticated search and match tool. Automation enables brokers to target and contact prospective buyers about new listings that match certain criteria, and captures buyer data if they respond to web advertising. One.LINK also makes it easy to produce documents like Information Memorandums or Non Disclosure Agreements.

Proven Marketing

AD.LINK

LINK's powerful marketing program has been developed and refined over more than two decades with extensive market research, to put your clients' businesses in front of the right buyers. Ad.LINK gives brokers proven marketing tools that reach buyers through targeted emails, networking, social media, our websites, and both digital and press advertising. This is supported by regular awareness campaigns to keep LINK top of mind for business owners.

Smart Technology

LINK's market-specific websites are built and updated with local Search Engine Optimization (SEO) in mind. Buyers in the United States, New Zealand, Australia, and the Philippines can easily find the LINK site that relates to them. The platform supports email alerts, online non disclosure agreements, detailed search, automatic uploading to business sale portals and more. Through Microsoft Office 365, our brokers share ideas and documents, and collaborate with people inside and outside of LINK, through News Feed, SharePoint, OneDrive and other sites.

Quality Resources

As a LINK business broker, you'll have industry best-practice resources and information at your fingertips.

- Advanced technology
- Marketing and document templates
- Recognition and reward program
- National and global networking
- Regular brand awareness advertising
- Professionally designed sales collateral
- Specialist sector material
- LINK knowledge base
- Sophisticated buyer and seller communications
- Training manuals
- International conference
- National conference
- Broker training sessions – in-house

The LINK Mission

To facilitate the sale of businesses ethically, confidentially and with utmost integrity.

Our Culture

LINK brokers have a reputation for getting results, without compromising on confidentiality or integrity. Founded on strong service and caring principles, we strive to foster an ethical, highly professional working environment - one that nurtures our brokers to achieve success through training, knowledge sharing and support. Although we've expanded widely since we started, we always aim to be better before being bigger. LINK follows the reporting disciplines of a larger company, but without the bureaucracy.

Local Experts

Global Reach

Since we started in 1996, LINK has been offering smart, hard-working people the opportunity and resources to build their own lucrative careers and businesses.

Our international network of brokers benefit from LINK's reputation for integrity, honesty, uncompromising quality, and a passion for connecting sellers with the right buyers.

We support each broker from day one, to reap the potential rewards possible as a LINK business broker.

Your questions answered

Q. What is the LINK culture?

We value integrity and have a zero-tolerance policy towards unethical behaviour. If you're honest, driven and ethical, you will fit in well. We encourage healthy competition and self-achievement.

Q. What support do brokers get?

As well as the tools mentioned on the previous pages, LINK brokers benefit from one-on-one field training, peer support, office facilities, administration support and access to our management team.

Q. Who provides the support?

Your local manager, the office administrator, the local country team, and the LINK Franchisor Office.

Q. How much can a LINK broker earn?

The adage 'you get out what you put in' is very true for commission-based business models like business brokering. Earnings vary according to the business size and number of listings a broker has on their books.

Q. Will I make a good business broker?

All types of people make good brokers. What matters most is your level of personal commitment and self-motivation.

Q. Are there any restrictions?

Yes, some states require LINK brokers to be licensed. We'll guide you through the steps to study towards and qualify for your license.

Q. And the downsides?

As a business broker you don't have anything to sell later – there's no accumulated equity. Also, without a set 'pay day', you'll need to have savings or other working capital until you create a regular cash flow.

Q. How long will it take to complete my first sale?

Typically this takes between three and six months, but highly driven brokers achieve their first deal within just a few weeks.

Q. What are the costs?

The costs to become a LINK broker are very low. Other than running a car you'll need a laptop and mobile phone.

Q. Does LINK have good systems?

Yes. LINK's world-class technology systems are continually being developed and refined. Our cutting-edge digital platform is fully cloud-based, supported by a full-time IT team to keep things running smoothly. In fact, some of our IT systems are so smart, they've been recognized with industry awards.

“I have owned businesses practically all my working life. After joining LINK, I was really impressed with the training provided, LINK’s marketing pull and the level of professionalism within the team.

I retain a lot of autonomy in the way I work and know that with the training and tools provided, I can do a great job for my clients and have fun as well. I enjoy the variety. I really enjoy the income - so this is something I’ll be doing for a long, long time.”
